

When Love Meets Pain

Passion & Beer - 2009

Water flows - cold as ice onto the sea
The wind blows - as nature set free
Waterfalls - resembling a face of one who has Beauty in vein - and the look of one who dares
Life is moon-lighted night...

If you give it up - you know worlds will collide
Feel the thump - of a heart that cries and dies
Let's realize - Our love can survive
The flame is on - and it will follow the tide

So let's dive - in a deep perfect dream
Life is no waste - And we are not machines
We sense tonight can end up in a solid flight

Our time will roll - I feel it's just another day
Our time will roll - When love meets pain
Our time will roll - I feel it's just another day
Our time will roll - When love meets pain

You gave it up - you hurt and stepped onto my soul
You split it up - into emptiness and none
But I came to - a new love will arrive
Time is lord - it'll reveal I am alive

I wanna dive in a deep perfect dream
Life is no waste - And I'm not a machine
No return, no height
Be sure a light will shine

Our time will roll - I feel I can live another day
Our time will roll - When love meets pain
Our time will roll - I feel I will live another day
Our time will roll - When love meets pain
